

HE IS ABLE TO ACCEPT.

Bryan Wont Refuse Populist Nomination,
BUT MAKES CLEAR HE ISN'T A POPULIST.

A Letter Which Wont Told to Mend the Widening Breach Between Populism and Popocracy—The Money Question Discussed at Length—Other Matters Ignored.

St. Louis, Mo., October 3.—Wm. J. Bryan today gave out his letter accepting the Populist nomination. The letter follows:

"Lincoln, Neb., October 3, 1896.
"Hon. Wm. V. Allen, chairman, and others, members of the notification committee of the People's party:

"Gentlemen—The nomination of the People's party for the Presidency of the United States, tendered me in such a generous spirit and upon such honorable terms I am able to accept without departing from the platform adopted by the national convention at Chicago. I fully appreciate the breadth of patriotism which has actuated the members of the People's party who, in order to consolidate the sentiment in favor of a single issue have been willing to go outside of party lines and support as their candidate one already nominated by the Democratic party and also by the Silver party. I appreciate the fact that while, during all the years since 1873 a large majority of the Democratic party and a considerable minority of the Republican party have been consistent advocates of the free coinage of silver at the present ratio, yet ever since the organization of the People's party its members have unanimously supported such coinage as the only means of restoring bimetalism. By persistently pointing out the disastrous effects of a gold standard and protesting against such excessive step

TOWARDS FINANCIAL BONDAGE, the Populists have exerted an important influence in awakening the public to a realization of the Nation's present peril.
In a time like this, when a great political party is attempting to surrender the right to legislate for ourselves upon the financial question and is seeking to bind the American people to a foreign monetary system, it behooves us as lovers of our country and friends of American institutions to lay aside for the present such differences as may exist among us on minor questions in order that our strength may be united in a supreme effort to resist the government from the hand of those who imagine the nation's finances are only secured when controlled by a few financiers and the national treasury may be monopolized by a few acquirements in any policy, however destructive, to the interests of the people of the United States which foreign creditors present to us. It is a cause of congratulation that we have in this campaign not only the support of Democrats, Populists and Republicans who have all belonged in independent bimetalism but also the active co-operation, of the Democratic and Republican who have heretofore been opponents of national bimetalism and now join with us rather than trust the destinies of the nation in the hands of those who are holding out

A DELUSIVE HOPE
of foreign aid while they labor secretly for the permanent establishment of the single gold standard.
"While difficulties have always arisen in the settlement of the details of any plan of co-operation between distinct political organizations, I am sure that the advocates of bimetalism are so intensely earnest they will be able to devise some means by which the free silver vote may be concentrated upon one electoral ticket in each state. To secure this result, charity towards the opinions of others and liberality on the part of all is necessary. Honest and sincere friends who are working towards a common result, always find it possible to agree upon just and equitable terms. The American people have proven equal to every emergency which has arisen in the past and I am confident there was no more emergency there will be no antagonism between the various regiments of one great army which is marching to repel an invasion more dangerous to our welfare than an army with banners.
"Acknowledging with gratitude your expressions of confidence and good will
I am,
"Very truly yours
"W. J. BRYAN."

An Armenian Village.
Mr. F. W. Crossley, a prominent citizen of Manchester, England, has received from an Englishman traveling in Armenia a graphic account of the desolation of the country. The letter says:

"Yesterday we planned an expedition to examine the things for ourselves.
There was a cool breeze blowing, and we had a delightful ride across the plain, passing on the way a little Armenian church into which were built two Latin inscriptions, dedicated by Nero to some officers of the Third Legion. It seems appropriate to find the name of Nero. It ought to be inscribed over the whole country side and on a thousand broken walls and ruined homes. When we came to the village we found that it consisted of about 300 houses and that not more than six were standing. All the rest were brown, broken walls of mud brick, without a roof and the hardy a door or window shutter left. The people became to come around us and welcome us.
One of the first women that drew near had lost her husband by the sword of the destroyer. We went to the ruins of the church. The roof was gone and every piece of timber was lying in a heap about by fire. The debris had raised the floor by perhaps a foot. The people enveloped round us with eyes full of tears, the women telling of slain sons and other pitiful things. The pastor, too, came to talk with us, a fine young fellow in whom we were much interested. We made the tour of the village, and found a little Catholic church, similarly destroyed. Then I took a lesson in archaeology, for I noticed the stones deep in dust from the disintegrating brick, and saw how these mounds of 'rubbish' were formed that we have seen so many times on our journey. Moreover it was clear that desolations of this kind had occurred from the earliest times in this country, for how else could we explain the frequency with which such 'tells' or mounds are found? If the people at --- do not resist their fate, they will be formed there within a couple of years.

One single thing I found that had occurred destruction. High on the wall of a ruined house, the second story, a photograph was nailed. I sent for a pole and got it down. It was a group of Armenian workmen from a factory at Worcester, Mass., and had been less than sent home by some happy migrant to his relatives. When we had finished our tour of the village we were taken to an orchard where they had prepared us a meal of fruit. The bears have not stolen our gardens," said the poor people. "No," I replied, "nor did we steal yours." "Which they brightened up. We talked over their plans and encouraged them to be bolder in better days. Our study of the village showed that the houses were fired by one. Those that were spared belonged to Turks. They were fired by petroleum, the supply of which was brought in from the coast. The man who did it is well known, and I suppose he will be rewarded by and with property. And now that we are going to do for these poor people?

DEMOCRATIC CLUBS CONVENTION.

Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago Platform Warmly Indorsed.

St. Louis, Oct. 3.—Beautiful autumn weather greeted the delegates and visitors to the second quadrennial convention of the National Association of Democratic clubs which assembled in the Auditorium building this morning. The spacious structure was profusely decorated with flags and banners and interspersed with pictures of men celebrated in the history of Democracy. The gallery of portraits was notable by the absence of President Cleveland's likeness. On account of delayed trains and late arrivals there was no meeting of the executive committee last night.
Early this morning those members of the executive committee who are in attendance at the convention met informally and ratified the programme of proceedings as prepared by Secretary McKinley and the prominent visitors and delegates to the convention. Vice President Stevenson, Ex-Governor Clark of Pennsylvania, Hon. Benton McMillin of Tennessee, Gov. Clark and Governor-elect Jones of Arkansas, F. G. Newlands of Nevada, chairman of the National Silver party convention, Gov. Stone of Missouri, Geo. P. Kenney, national organizer of the Silver party, Washington, D. C., and Senator Money of Mississippi.
The delegates were slow in assembling at the Auditorium and at 11 o'clock, the hour when the convention should have been called to order, there were not over 500 delegates present. The great auditorium had but a seating capacity of 5,000, but the delegates were slow to arrive. It is a cause of congratulation that we have in this campaign not only the support of Democrats, Populists and Republicans who have all belonged in independent bimetalism but
also the active co-operation, of the Democratic and Republican who have heretofore been opponents of national bimetalism and now join with us rather
than trust the destinies of the nation in the hands of those who are holding out

of foreign aid while they labor secretly
for the permanent establishment of the single gold standard.
"While difficulties have always arisen
in the settlement of the details of any

fare than an army with banners.
"Acknowledging with gratitude your expressions of confidence and good will
I am,
"Very truly yours
"W. J. BRYAN."

At the afternoon session, permanent officers of the convention were selected.
Hon. Charles H. Johnson, D. C., was Mississippi; secretary, John Baker White, West Virginia; assistant secretary, J. M. Kane, Indiana. Mrs. Worth president of the National Association of Democratic clubs, was introduced and made a stirring address. J. W. Kelley, representing the college boys of the United States, president of Association of College Clubs, made a brief address. The resolutions specifically endorse each plank of the Chicago platform and declare the wisdom of the Chicago declaration of American industrial and financial independence has been shown by "the rapid and open advance of the world, and duly favored by monopolistic laws, every rapacious combine, of every insatiable trust, of every great corporation which seeks public regulation for its protection, in one mighty conspiracy under single absolute and fairly typical boss, resisted with the aid of their English and other foreign associates, by their unlimited use of money and their united power over the great mass of citizens in their service and subject to injury more or less directly at their hands, to defeat the people's candidate, to overthrow the people's cause and to hold the country in unrelieved bondage to the consolidated money power, and to continuously appreciating single standard gold dollar, starving its millions to famine."

The resolutions allege that railroads are giving low rates to McKinley delegations going to Canton and charging Bryan delegations high fares. The nomination of Bryan and Sewall is endorsed.
The Gaulois says that France has concluded an agreement with Italy, Germany and Great Britain for an embargo on grain and other commodities that may take form in any of the countries named. This statement, however, lacks confirmation.
Secretary Herbert arrived in New York last night. He said that his trip abroad had convinced him that the American people is second to none in the world. Mr.
Herbert will vote for Palmer and Buckner.

The treasury's net gold balance at the close of business Saturday was $133,002, 700.
Boston defeated Providence 3 to 4 Saturday winning the base ball championship of New England.
The bicycle meet at Colby has been postponed from Saturday to Monday.

CANTON'S DAY.

Major McKinley Made Speech After Speech.

Wheelmen Sent the News by Carrier Pigeon—A Bath Tub Presented by One Delegation.

Canton, O., October 3.—The day dawned bright and clear, and was in every way auspicious for the big demonstration scheduled. Two delegations were in before the city was astir. One came from Harrisburg and Dauphin county, Pennsylvania, and reached here about 5 o'clock. A special train of five day coaches and two Pullmans brought the party. Capt. Wm. J. George was the spokesman for the party.

The second delegation, which arrived at 7.15, came from Athens county, O., and its captain is the "Sunday Creek Valley McKinley club." One of the features is a blue club quartette of ladies.
Other trains arrived soon afterward, the railroads having about 25 specials scheduled for the day.
As about 10 o'clock the first party went to the McKinley home. Addresses were made by Capt. Wm. J. George of the Harrisburg News for the Pennsylvania, and by J. M. Allen of Gloucester for the Sunday Valley people.
In his speech,

MAJOR MCKINLEY SAID:
"My fellow citizens—It gives me great pleasure to receive at my home my fellow citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the state of Ohio.
Whatever injuriously or beneficially affects the people of Pennsylvania alike affects the people of Ohio, and I could not but be struck by the similarity of the messages which have come from our respective spokesmen as to the condition of the people in these two great states.
How similar they were. It is the cry of distress going up from every part of our common country. What men want is business activity. What laboring men want is work."

"We have discovered in the last three years and a half that we cannot increase the output of the mines or the wages of the miner by a decrease of the manufacturing in the United States. We have discovered that less American coal is required, if we do any part of our work in Europe rather than in the United States. I favor that policy which will give the largest development to every American interest; that gives the widest opportunity to every American citizen; that gives most work and best wages to every American laborer and secure to our people the highest possible property in all their occupations."

"I cannot but appreciate most highly this visit, made at such inconvenience and from so great a distance to my home. It brings me to the heart of the matter of your regard and good will, I will always remember and cherish. It is with peculiar pleasure that I welcome this visit from the capital city of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Coming as you do from a city of great rolling mills and other manufactures, having a long and honorable record in the manufacturing industry, I am glad to see

THE PAPER CASE.

Continuation of the Trial in the Circuit Court.

The trial of the case of Train, Smith & Co. against Charles J. Dunn, assignee of the Bangor Pulp and Paper company was continued in the Circuit court Saturday.

The examination of George F. Barton was resumed. The witness testified as to what he did to care for the stock at the mill in the interim between the assignment and the commencement of the replevin suit. Mr. Dunn, the assignee, in no way interfered with his work. He had several times tried to get a statement from Mr. Dunn, stating his position in reference to the paper, and finally succeeded and forwarded the statement to Train, Smith & Co.

William O. Dorr, whose examination was suspended Friday night, was recalled and his examination resumed. The witnesses stated that in the absence of Mr. Gedney, the plaintiff's agent, he signed the receipts for the paper, by direction of Mr. Gedney. The witness only remained at the mill for three or four days after the assignment. At the time of the service of the replevin writ he was present and assisted. So far as he observed the stock was about the same then as it was when he left soon after the assignment; he saw no difference.

Charles W. Wiggott, formerly in the employ of the Bangor Pulp and Paper company, as assistant treasurer and treasurer, testified as to the management of that company, its financial condition and its dealings with Train, Smith & Co.

This closed the evidence in behalf of the plaintiff. Mr. Woodward stated that he deemed it unnecessary to make any formal opening in behalf of the defense, the position of the defendant having been so fully shown during the progress of the trial.

Charles J. Dunn, the assignee, was then called and testified at length to the circumstances of the assignment and to subsequent events. Daniel J. Mooney, who was in the employ of the paper company at the time of the assignment, as machinist, testified that he never saw any difference in the handling of the paper from the time the mill started up in March, 1895, until the time of the assignment. After the assignment he was employed by the assignee as one of the watchmen.

James H. Cain testified that he was employed by the paper company as a supervisor of logs and wood, and that he saw no difference in the manner of handling the paper during the time he was there, from February, 1894, to February, 1895.

Counsel for the defense then introduced the assignment to the defendant and other documentary evidence, upon which the defense relies. The case was then suspended to enable the plaintiff to procure two other witnesses, whom they were unable to find for this time, the date of the further hearing to be fixed later.

Riverton Park.

The attendance at Riverton Saturday afternoon and evening was very large and the performances given by the Alabama Troubadours were very enjoyable. The beauty of the autumn foliage is now at its height and people who have an eye for the beauties of nature are not slow to take advantage of this fact and Riverton is one of the most beautiful places in Maine to get a good view of the varying tints. A call on the beautiful Presumpscot is something to be remembered for a long time and few places offer a better opportunity to see the autumn tints than this favorite resort. It is estimated that about 8000 people visited the beautiful park on the Presumpscot Saturday afternoon, while the attendance in the evening was even larger. The Alabama Troubadours have been one of the strongest attractions here this season and the management, anxious to please their many patrons, have reengaged this popular company for one more week, in order to give the public an opportunity to hear this famous band of singers.

The members of the Westbrook city government were the guests of the Portland Railroad Co. Saturday afternoon and evening. At 1.30 p.m. the elegant palace car "Branhall" was drawn up at the head of Bridge street in Westbrook to receive the guests. Those that boarded the car included the mayor, the members of the city council, City Clerk Raymond, City Treasurer Winslow, Senator Waterhouse, Representative Burns, Mr. Lemuel S. Lane and City Solicitor Ray. Superintendent Spring accompanied the party and was untiring in his endeavors to make the trip enjoyable. When the car reached Westbrook Manager Newman and President Wood of the company joined the party. The company was carried directly to Riverton park. They were royally entertained. After inspecting the park a sail was taken on the river in the electric launch and the performance witnessed in the theatre. At its conclusion the party adjourned to the Casino where Landlord Smith served an elaborate dinner. Hon. Charles F. Libby for the company before the delicacies were partaken of made a few appropriate remarks. He said this entertainment was given as a compliment to Westbrook in gratitude for its liberal patronage the past season. As it was impossible to entertain the city as a whole the compliment was extended to its representatives. After the palate was satisfied the company returned to Westbrook, arriving in the city at 9 o'clock.

"I had chronic diarrhoea for ten years," says L. W. Kichlein, a justice of the peace at South Easton, Pa. "No remedy afforded me real relief until I was induced by Chas. T. Kilian, the druggist, to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me and for a year I have had no return of the trouble." It has also cured many others, among them old soldiers who had contracted the disease in the army and given up all hope of recovery. For sale by Lander & Babidge, and H. P. S. A Peculiar Accident.

A peculiar accident and almost an unexplainable one, occurred early Saturday morning on one of the electric cars which runs to Cash's corner and by it Fred Morse, a motorman, had his arm broken. Morse was braking the car up at the Boston & Maine railroad crossing on Commercial street and was bracing himself with one hand on the car railing. Conductor Cushing was standing on the front platform with Morse when suddenly the latter cried out as if in pain and his left arm dropped to his side.

"Who struck me," cried the motorman.

"I can't lift my arm."

"No one struck you," said the conductor. "What's the matter with you?"

Morse said he didn't know but that he could not move his arm and it pained him terribly. Cushing did not know but what the motorman might have had a shock and advised him to go into the car and sit down. The conductor then ran the car over to Knightville and added Morse in reaching Dr. Rodgers of that place where it was found that the motorman's arm was broken. What broke the arm is not known as Morse was neither struck or thrown against the car railing. The man was taken to his home on Brackett street and will be off duty for several weeks.

The Death Rate.

There were 19 deaths in Portland during the week which ended Saturday noon. The deaths were due to the following causes: Cancer, 2; croup, 1; gangrene, 1; heart disease, 2; hemiplegia, 1; inanition, 1; marasmus, 1; peritonitis, 1; pneumonia, 2.

VOODOO.

An Old Servant Gives a Gypsy All Her Money.

The police are looking for a gypsy "voodoo" woman who hypnotized a servant of an up town family a week ago Saturday and got from her $100 of her hard earned money. The story as told the police was as follows. On that Saturday forenoon the mistress of the house whose name the police refuse to make public, responded to a ring of the door, bell and found at the door a tall, dark woman evidently a gypsy with a child on one arm and a lot of baskets on the other. The gypsy asked the lady of the house if she could step inside and rest as she was very tired. The kind hearted mistress invited the woman into the front hall way, gave her a chair and sent an old Irish servant, who had been in the family for years, to give the gypsy woman some food. Then the lady of the house left the pair together and went about her work.

In the afternoon the old servant came to her mistress in tears and said that she had given the gypsy woman all of her money, $100 in all.

"What did you do that for?" demanded the mistress.

"Because she threw a charm over me and compelled me to give it to her," wailed the old servant. "She said that for ten dollars she would cast over me a spell and charm away my rheumatism I gave her the ten dollars and after a little while she said that if I did not give her the rest of the money she would cast a curse upon me and work me harm, so I gave her the money and she went away." The mistress and her servant went to the police station at once and told Marshal Trickey about the affair. A search was made for the gypsy "voodoo" but no trace of her has yet been found and it is doubtful if she is ever caught.

The Armenian Refugees.

Saturday, Mrs. Stevens received a letter from a white ribbon woman in Bangor offering accommodations for two more Armenian refugees, so that now there are but ten to be provided for. Arrangements have been made for a temporary home for some of them as quarters will be on a farm near Portland and already Mrs. Stevens has received offers from farmers living near by of donations of milk, vegetables and other provisions. Mrs. Stevens says that her understanding of the matter is that the Armenians will include men, women and children. They are destitute and all are probably ignorant of the English language, for Miss Frances Willard, who is now in Marselles helping to care for the refugees who have reached that city, wrote Mrs. Stevens some time ago, that she could communicate with them only by signs.

Mrs. Stevens would be glad to receive contributions for the Armenians who are sent to Maine and such offerings may be sent to 150 Free street in care of Mrs. Stevens. When the Maine contingent will arrive, Mrs. Stevens cannot say.

ATHLETICS AT WILLARD.

Cape Elizabeth Electric Men Try Their Skill Saturday.

About 1500 people went to Willard beach Saturday afternoon to see the athletic contests between two picked teams of the employees of the Portland and Cape Elizabeth railroad company, and it is safe to say that every one was more than satisfied with the fine exhibition given.

Although the weather was somewhat cloudy the afternoon was well fitted for a contest of this kind and the hard, smooth beach just suited for the events, all of which took place there excepting the tug of war, which occurred in front of the casino. One team was captained by A. S. Macreadie, assistant superintendent, and the other by F. S. Smith. The teams were made up as follows:

Captain A. S. Macreadie, P. M. Plumb, W. H. Smith, M. Peters, Clark Thompson, Paul Barrie, Hunt, Twitcheil, Cash.

Captain F. S. Smith, Kennison, Jones, Foster, Morrill, Cleaves, Locke, Lowell, McLeod.

At 3 o'clock sharp the sports commenced and each side struggled for the victory. The long beach had been marked off and flags placed at the start and finish points. Everything went like clock work and there was hardly a hitch or false start made in any of the events.

Superintendent McLeod gave an exhibition throw of the hammer by request. As the athletic young Scot stepped forward there was a murmur from the crowd. Picking the hammer up he swung it around his head a few times and then, as if on a pivot, he turned and sent the hammer straight forward as it shot from a bow, measuring the distance of 105 feet. At this there was a loud cheer and many wanted to see it done again, but Mr. McLeod said once was enough.

The most exciting event was the tug of war, which took place in front of the casino, where everybody could get a good view. The teams were made up as follows: Frank Smith, captain; Kennison, anchor; Jones, Foster, Morrill, Cleaves, Locke, A. Macreadie, captain; Paul Barrie, anchor; Thompson, Smith, Twitcheil, Hunt, Cash, Peters. After the teams had taken their positions the signal was given and the struggle commenced. It seemed as if neither team would give, but finally Capt. Smith's men gained about an inch and this they kept and after a strong pull brought their opponents upright and then walked away with them. It was a pretty struggle and the victors were heartily cheered. Later in the afternoon there was a second and final pull which was also won by Captain Smith's team.

The following are the events and winners: 100 yards dash—P. M. Plumb, first; W. H. Smith, second; A. S. Lowell, third. Throwing hammer—Moses Peters, first, 98 feet, 5 inches; H. L. Kennison, second, 88 feet, 2 inches; A. S. Lowell, third, 86 feet, 8 inches. Running broad jump—Lowell, first, 14 feet, 9 inches; Plumb, second, 14 feet, 8 inches; Thompson, third, 14 feet, 14 inches.

Putting the shot—Kennison, first, 37 feet, 10 inches; Thompson, second, 37 feet, 6 inches; Lowell, third, 37 feet, 5 inches. 220 yards dash—Plumb, first; Lowell, second; W. H. Smith, third. Running hop, skip and jump—Lowell, first, 30 feet, 10 inches; Thompson, second, 30 feet, 9 inches; Plumb, third, 30 feet, 1 inch.

Mr. Macreadie then gave an exhibition hop, skip and jump, making a record of 37 feet, 6 inches. He was followed by Mr. R. Griffith of the P. H. S., 32 feet, 5 inches.

The score stood 35 to 30 points in favor of Capt. Macreadie's team.

Prof. G. R. Lee was referee, Mr. R. Griffith, P. H. S., starter, and Mr. Stephen R. Small and Superintendent Cobb of the Lovell Cycle works, judges.

A fine supper is to be provided by the losing team for both teams and it will probably occur next Wednesday night, although definite arrangements have not yet been completed.

Mail Changes.

Attention is called to the change of time in the arrival and departure of mail as per schedule published in another column which are made necessary by changes on the several railroad and steamboat lines. The principal changes are in the west and east mails at noon which arrive and depart about half an hour later and the discontinuance of a number of express mails.

Most men break down when afflicted with rheumatism. If they would try Salford Oil they would find relief at once.

Canton Ridgely.

Canton Ridgely will pay a fraternal visit to Canton Evergreen of Gardiner next Friday, October 9. The members of the canton will leave Union station on the morning train and will be met at the depot in Gardiner by Canton Evergreen. Arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the visitors and one of the many things will be a visit to the Soldiers' home at Togus. In the evening there will be a band concert and grand ball. The local canton will hold a fair during the week and Friday is the last day. It is expected that 75 from Portland will go on this excursion and the more sanguine place the number even higher than that. Every canton member is invited to go.

Canton Ridgely will have a special meeting Monday evening. A full attendance is desired. There will be a drill and the tickets for the excursion to Gardiner will be ready for distribution.

Wants the Ball Reduced.

Attorney James W. Ridgeway of Brooklyn, N. Y., was in the city on Saturday and held a conference with Carroll W. Morrill, Esq., the attorney for George Murray, the man who is accused of breaking into the Cold Storage Co.'s office on Commercial street and blowing the safe. Attorney Ridgeway will make an endeavor to have Murray's bail reduced from $1,000 so that he can be set at liberty. The Brooklyn attorney represents Murray's sister who lives in that city. Nothing had been accomplished by Mr. Ridgeway at a late hour Saturday evening.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.
FOR PRESIDENT,
William McKinley
OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
Garret A. Hobart
OF NEW JERSEY.

What has been rising now for a month past, but silver has not budged a hair. It has been one of the pet theories of the silver men that these two things were so joined together that they must fall or rise together.

Mr. Bryan formally accepts the Populist nomination, saying that he is able to do so without departing from the Chicago platform. Apparently he considers the two platforms similar in all important particulars, and in these he is about right. The truth is the Chicago platform was stolen from the Populists, and so was the Chicago nomination for that matter. Mr. Bryan was always a good deal more of a Populist than Democrat. If Mr. Bryan wants to continue to be regarded the friend of the people he must repudiate the circular calling upon the silver mine owners to contribute to his campaign fund, because his election will mean a profit to them of 64 cents an ounce on all their silver. A man that is willing to accept aid from such a trust as that can't consistently call himself the friend of the toiling masses.

Mr. Bryan has in some way got a great reputation for sincerity. It is the fashion even among many of his opponents to regard him as sincere, though misguided. But he has recently signed his name to a statement which is calculated to shake the confidence of his warmest admirers in his sincerity. In a signed statement which he put out in a Cincinnati paper he declared: "I have no doubt of my election." A man who believes that statement is sincere can only do so by believing that Mr. Bryan is mentally as blind as a bat. Every state which has held an election since he became a candidate has shown that the tide was setting strongly against him. Even in Arkansas there was a falling off in the Democratic vote and a large increase in the Republican, which clearly indicated that even in the hide bound Democratic states the free press issue had worked to the disadvantage of the Democratic party. No candidate for the Presidency ever saw such powerful elements arrayed against him as are arrayed against Mr. Bryan. It is safe to say that a great majority of the men of character in the country, of the men of learning, of the men of business, of the men of thought and industry are against him. The majority of the men of influence in the Democratic party even are opposed to him, not passively, but openly and actively. Hardly a prominent Northern Democratic leader is on the stump for him, and among the names of the managers of his campaign there is hardly one that was known a year ago. No candidate for the Presidency was ever elected with half the odds against him that are against Mr. Bryan. Yet in spite of these facts, in spite of the fact that the elections that have already taken place have shown that the current of popular opinion was setting strongly against him Mr. Bryan declares that he has no doubt of his election. If he had said only that he was confident, or that he expected to be elected, or that he considered the chances in his favor, there would then have been good reason for either doubting his sincerity or questioning his mental health, but when he declares that he has no doubt of his election, that he is certain of it—he renders it impossible to regard him as both sincere and mentally sound.

CURRENT COMMENT.

GET TOGETHER BETHREN.
(Lewiston Journal.)

As children going in the night we outsiders beg our expert brethren to get together and make something certain save the crack of doom. The world's people are heaving anxious, generally for the milk of the word, yearning to find the kingdom of God but whether Brother Stockpole is right or whether Brother Stockpole's critics are right none in authority comes to tell us. When doctors disagree the patient is apt to die. What will happen if doctors of divinity continue to speak of one another's views in terms that possess Bryan's zeal divorced of Bryan's smile? Get together brethren, we beseech you, and give us a working basis of peace and good will. There's vinegar enough outside the gospel with out injecting any into it. The things on which the saints agree will disappear if intensity and dogmatism in the intellect are not curbed by light and sweetness in the heart.

AN AMAZING CONCEPTION.

Now, in all seriousness if it not one of the most amazing conceptions that ever entered the human brain that the money in his pocket is too good for him? That it buys too much, would not any wife be justified in considering her husband a tipster if he should tell her that the money applied to the support of the family was bringing too much fuel, clothing and provisions, that something must be done by Congress to reduce these quantities one-half, and that the country will be ruined if things go on this way much longer. Yet this is the chief contention of the Bryanites. The whole silver movement is bottomed on the idea that cheapness is a damage to us and that we should be better off if we had to pay more money for everything we buy. Every silverite on the stump, from Mr. Bryan down to up, sings the same tune, harps on the same string: "Prices are down, prices are declining, we shall be ruined."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.
by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Stetson's Big Uncle Tom's Cabin company will appear at Portland theatre for one performance, Thursday next. The Reading Eagle says: "The special scenery, of which they carry a full car load, is very fine. A good performance of this ever popular play is always given. Especial mention is deserved to the many pleasant specialties. The Two Toppies are the best ever seen here and are accomplished dancers. The Lone Star Quartette rendered some pleasant negro melodies in a fine manner. The African mandolin students were called on for four encores."

The Bostonians.

A new production by the Bostonians always attracts the attention of music lovers and there will be exceeding interest no doubt when this ever welcome organization presents for the first time here their greatest success "In Mexico." This opera is the joint production of C. T. Dacey and Oscar Weil. The score is described as melodious and intensely dramatic. The book is more pretentious than the ordinary libretto, in that story tells of the adventures of a young American captain of cavalry during the Mexican war, his betrothal to a Mexican heiress, is captured by guerrillas, the tragic death of the handi leader Ramon at the hands of his people, the sombre requital of a betrayed girl and the humorous episodes which befall Extra Stebbins, a Yankee sutler. The opera is in three acts, and the mis-en-scene is described as picturesque and convincing. Act one is laid near the Hacienda de la Portilla; act two reveals another view under the moonlight, with a bivouac of American troops, act three the guard house. Scenery is from the studio of Young & Shaeffer, and the costumes were made from designs furnished by General William Graham, H. S. A., Fort Presidio, Cal.

The Bostonians will be seen in "Robin Hood" Friday and "In Mexico" Saturday. There was a large advance sale at Stockbridge's last Saturday. There will be late trains and half fare on the roads.

A Baggage Check.

In this enlightened age of steam cars and flying machines, the theatre-going public know that a play must be first class in every respect to meet with success. Such is an illustration in Blaney's "A Baggage Check," now in its third triumphant tour over the country. The play is constructed on purely farcical lines and is used to amuse only and the cast comprises some of the best known specialty artists. It will be seen at Portland theatre October 10th.

Ryan's Benefit.

The annual benefit concert for Portland's well known blind musician, Mr. W. J. Ryan, will take place in Congress hall, Wednesday evening, October 14. Excellent talent will assist in making the annual concert a success and those who patronize it will be delighted with the entertainment. In addition to the entertaining feature the public should take into consideration the worthiness of the undertaking on the part of Mr. Ryan's many friends.

Organ Recital.

Mr. Harvey Murray's organ recitals, the first of a series that he contemplates giving at the State Street church on Saturday afternoon, drew a large and highly delighted audience, composed for the most part of ladies. Mr. Murray is singularly fortunate in the magnificent instrument at his command, the last one manufactured by the celebrated Roosevelt Co. before they sold out to the World's Fair Co. The effects that can be produced upon it are so far in advance of those exhibited by other church organs that the comparison is like that between a full orchestra and a quartette of instruments.

Mr. Murray's programme was selected with much judgment. The numbers were well contrasted and not too long, so that at the end of the hour his audience would have liked something added.

The gems of the recital were the Salome Pastoral, the Dubois Benediction and the Judasohn Scherzo. The Pastoral was exquisitely rendered, the notes remarkably clear and liquid, and it was in this number that Mr. Murray's beauty of touch was especially prominent. The benediction opened with a flute effect that was novel, followed later by a prolonged horn effect that gave a triumphant character to the music. Like most French composers' writings of this nature the Benediction is sensuous in character and warm in coloring. The Scherzo is a bright, joyous, animated composition and carries with it the idea of a spring song.

While these numbers particularly delighted because Mr. Murray is so sympathetic and gives so much expression to his work, we must not fail to give him credit for his admirable rendering of the Bach fugue, or the grand theme of the Hallelujah Chorus. As the last triumphant notes of the chorus died away the audience remained as it were spell bound and then reluctantly quitted the church.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Rev. Dr. Kneeland at Chestnut St. Church.

The Rev. Martin D. Kneeland, D. D., secretary of the New England Sabbath Protective league spoke to a good sized congregation at the afternoon service yesterday at the Chestnut Street Methodist church.

The objects of this league as implied by its corporate name are to "maintain the observance of the Lord's day as a civil rest day and a day of religious use," defending it against the encroachments of business and pleasure.

Its methods include organization and agitation, instruction by press, pulpit and platform, education of the young and morally ignorant, the protection and enforcement of Sunday laws and the securing better legislation in the interests of the workingman and good citizenship.

The speaker began by saying, "When I face a Methodist congregation I come with a feeling of special gratification because one of your bishops, Rev. R. S. Foster, is the president of our league. The Sabbath was made for man, physically, morally and spiritually, in every way it was made for man. God gave us this day and it is this day that is of the most importance. The commands of God regarding the Sabbath and its observance touch on this question. The questions of finance, of gold or silver standards, and of national honor and integrity are questions of importance, but this question of Sabbath observance is of far more consequence."

"The Anglo-Saxon races have done more for this cause than all others and are therefore more prosperous because of their love and fear of God and delight to obey His laws. France at one time began to observe one day in 10 but the people could not endure it and demanded that one day in seven should be kept in accordance with the plan of God and this was granted them."

"The workingman above all others needs one day in the seven as a day of rest. He is the one that should claim the Sabbath day as his day, as a day for rest and worship."

"It is not the claim of this league that we can make men attend church, but we do claim that every one should have the day to enjoy these privileges if he wishes to. John Stuart Mills said those that now work seven days shall eventually be ground down to accepting five days' pay. We hold that there should be a law on the statute books of every state to the effect that every man should be allowed one day in seven."

"The moral side of the subject of Sabbath observance is of great importance as the non-enforcement of the Sabbath laws involve questions of purity, immorality vice crime and suicide. The speaker then referred to the question of the extent of the custom of bicycle riding and the racing of the Sunday papers."

"A well known judge of one of our courts has said that most of the criminals that come to us began their career by reckless desecration of the Sabbath. We don't expect to bring back the old Jewish Sabbath, continued the speaker, but everyone that is interested in the W. C. T. U., Epworth league or Christian Endeavor or other organization of like nature should be interested in securing a return of our old Puritanical Sabbath in preference to the continental Sabbath that has settled upon us."

We are working along the lines of closing Sunday theaters, working on the streets by contractors and their crews excursions, and in many instances have succeeded in stopping the promiscuous running of freight trains. We have not begun a struggle but what we have been successful, not saying this to be boastful but to show that we are right in our position. We have circulated much literature in New England touching on this subject and we are also holding many conferences and shall soon hold a meeting in Portland with addresses on the work. And so the work goes on and God is behind it. The speaker closed with an appeal to the congregation to contribute to the extent of their ability to the fund for the advancement of the cause."

Dr. Kneeland spoke at Free street in the morning and at the First Presbyterian church in the evening.

FORTY-THIRD BRANCH STORE.

The W. L. Douglass Shoe Co. Opened Saturday at 546 Congress Street.

The W. L. Douglass Shoe company of Boston, Mass., opened their 43rd branch store Saturday at 546 Congress street, with Mr. A. J. Hamilton formerly of the Palmer Shoe company, as manager and Mr. Harry Way clerk. The store is fitted up more like a handsome reception parlor than a shoe store and compares favorably with the finest. This store will carry all styles, sizes and widths of the famous Douglass shoe, in patent leather, calf, camel and Russia leather, for men only. If it is impossible to fit a person at this store the factory has every facility for filling any order to measure at short notice and at a slight advance on the regular price. This is something that will be appreciated by people with difficult feet to fit. This store is never out of sizes as shipments are made daily from the factory in order to keep the stock well sized, a fact sure to be appreciated by the public. The Douglass shoe is famous throughout the country for its fine wearing qualities and is one of the best shoes on the market for the price at which it is offered.

White Mountain Excursion. Owing to the storm of last Wednesday, on which date an excursion had been arranged by the Maine Central to the White mountains, it was decided to postpone this excursion, and it will now be run next Wednesday, October 7th, at very cheap rates with a special train leaving Portland at 8:40 a. m. or after arrival of train from Waterville, Augusta, Bath, Lewiston, Brunswick and way stations. Returning, special will leave Babyns at 2 p. m., arriving in Portland at 5:00 p. m., giving four hours at Babyns. The storm not being so severe in the White Mountains did not affect the foliage, other than to give it a good bath, so as make it brighter and more beautiful than ever, and it is acknowledged this season by all who have seen it to be the most brilliant in color for many years.

The Maine Central flyers distributed about town announce "the Crawford Notch ablaze with the glowing colors of the brilliant autumn foliage, the most magnificent spectacle of the modern age, excelling anything that the hand of man has fashioned." This grand display is nature's "Daylight Torchlight Procession." And while, perhaps, this may seem a little extravagant, it must be acknowledged that the beautiful autumn tints combined with the grand scenery of the Crawford Notch makes this a trip of marvellous grandeur and beauty. Snow now covers the higher mountain peaks, adding a touch of winter to the bright color of deploring summer. Fare for the round trip $1.50.

DIET MISSION.

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Diet Mission was held Saturday afternoon. There was a good attendance. These reports were read and ordered on file:

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Ladies of the Diet Mission:—When one has written his report for the Diet Mission for years in succession there is very little one can say that is new and yet as the time for our work to begin draws near there is much in our hearts that we can and will say. Oh if we could only carry out our best desire, we would have our ideal Diet kitchen where the hot broths would be ready at all hours of the day. As we cannot do that let us look at the blessings we have, and if we have used them to the best advantage, out of them, may grow in time the "ideal kitchen," with its ideal mission as well as our best desire, we would have our ideal Diet kitchen where the hot broths would be ready at all hours of the day. As we cannot do that let us look at the blessings we have, and if we have used them to the best advantage, out of them, may grow in time the "ideal kitchen," with its ideal mission as well as our best desire, we would have our ideal Diet kitchen where the hot broths would be ready at all hours of the day. SUNDAY ALONG SHORE.

The Tide Was the Only Thing Moving About the Harbor Yesterday.

Not a ripple stirred the surface of the harbor yesterday afternoon. The leaden colored sky with dark streaks of clouds lying low on the eastern horizon, the heavy ground swell splashing mournfully around the moss covered wharves of the wharves and the large part of vessels of all sizes and rigs lying at anchor below the breakwater, all told of an approaching storm with a falling barometer and a nasty night out side. It was an extremely quiet day along shore. Fishermen and sailors in painfully new clothes and "Sunday-go-to-meeting" appearance loafed around the ends of the piers or on the street corners commenting on the weather and now and then surreptitiously taking a pull at a corn cob or old black clay pipe and seemingly finding some comfort in doing so. A few row boats were moving up and down the harbor without any apparent object or purpose in view, the big bell on the ferry boat clanged dully now and then and sent the English sparrows whirling skyward from their resting place on the roof of the barge office. Every other man you met seemed depressed and homesick and looked as if even a dog fight would be a relief. In a word it was a dull Sunday along shore and a hard day to pass interestingly.

Even the barge office officials, usually busy enough, found the day hanging heavily on their hands. Their frequent surveys of the channel through the large spy glass brought nothing in sight excepting the bleak shores of Cushing's Island and the boarded windows of the deserted Ottawa house, on the hill. Hardly a vessel turned her nose seaward during the day and only a few came drifting in through the channel. Up at the Grand Trunk wharves a subdued and quiet looking crowd gazed at the big hole in the ground where the elevator foundations are being put in but not a man was at work nor an engine red.

The large crew of men who have done so much in such a short space of time were taking a day off and for the first time night or day for the week the formidable spill drivers were at rest. A few boys, still wearing the clothes they had worn to Sunday, found amusement in riding up and down the wharf on a hand car. They were the only persons on the whole water front who had succeeded in finding anything amusing and the knot of grown up people standing about gazed at them wistfully and possibly wished that the dignity of years did not exclude them from the sport.

During the early morning the steam yachts Robah and Baruna sailed westward, leaving the yacht Ladoga behind to go on the railway today for repairs.

The tug boat Belknap and Cornelia sailed last night for Bath where they will take in tow for this port on Monday four barges and a steam dredge belonging to Moore and Wright. This firm will be engaged in dredging the channel below the Maine Central bridge on Tuesday.

HARBOR NOTES.

There were three steam yachts in the harbor Saturday; the Robah of Boston, the Baruna of New York and the Ladoga.

The bark Charles G. Irving will receive her crew today preparatory to sailing for South America.

The Normandy's crew will arrive tomorrow and the vessel will sail with spool wood for Glasgow.

Women's Christian Association.

At the meeting of the Portland Women's Christian Association held on October 2d at 26 Spring street, a grateful acknowledgment was voted to the trustees of the Walker fund for the sum allotted to this institution. By means of this timely aid the Boarding Home has been put in thorough repair including new steam apparatus throughout.

The donation of Mrs. Dr. Fenjhas increased the cheerfulness and comfort of the sitting room, and if a suitable carpet could be provided by some equally true friend of the association for the entrance and stairs, the house would doubtless run some years without need of further expenditure.

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in this association, to be present at the next meeting (6th of November) to inspect the house in its renovated condition, and hear Rev. Mr. Wilson's report of missionary work.

Presentation.

On the arrival of the Bangor and Boston Railway Post office train 64, on last Saturday noon, the crew in the mail car presented one of their number, Mr. G. C. Russell, an elegant French clock, account of his approaching marriage to Miss Alice G. Brown of this city, on Wednesday next, October 7th. Having performed this agreeable duty the mail was distributed with alacrity and all hands were happy.

Big Storm Threatened.

The Weather Bureau reported yesterday afternoon that a heavy storm would visit Portland late evening. The warning was given about 5 p. m. and at that time the weather was threatening. Later the clouds cleared and it was bright starlight.

A Pretty Sunday School Room.

It was the universal opinion that never had the vestry of Chestnut street Methodist church looked more beautiful than yesterday, when was held the annual rally of the Sunday school. An abundance of autumn foliage, fruits and flowers completely clothed the room in beauty. There was a large attendance and stirring exercises. Rev. Dr. Parsons made a rousing address. This school is certainly well equipped for a thoroughly successful fall and winter season.

Millinery.

Miss A. B. Warren 331 Congress street, fall and winter opening Wednesday and Thursday, October 7 and 8. Open evening.

WHEEL CLUB.

Several of the Members Ride From Boston to Portland.

Last Saturday evening a party of Portland wheelmen left by boat for Boston with the intention of wheeling back to this city from the Hub yesterday. They were Capt. Frank Davis, George R. Stevens, Howard Stevens, Edward H. Tenney, Ed. Hamdell and Burton Brett. Mr. Meserve also accompanied the party. The Portland men had a good passage up and at 5.45 a. m. yesterday started for home. Capt. Davis and George R. Stevens turned up at 7.20 p. m., having left the remainder of the party stowed along the way. The roads were horrible the late wet weather having left the mud in very bad shape. They experienced a head wind, and cold fog for the greater part of the trip, and occasional dashes of rain. The two were thoroughly tired out.

A party from Portland rode out to Biddeford yesterday to meet the party but as they did not come along gave it up and returned to Portland without them.

Last night boys broke into the confectionery store of Thomas J. Briggs on Congress street, stole two dollars in cash, and indulged in ice cream and queen sherbert. It was evident that one of the boys entered by a cellar window, then went up stairs and let the other boys in by another window. They left a cup in the ice cream freezer, and the queen sherbert running. They also tried to get into the safe but failed.
